Ravenous Privacy Policy

What Information Do We Collect?

The Ravenous app does not collect any personal data nor send any game or player data to the Internet. In the future we may release an update that collects anonymous user data such as clicks and progress through the game for educational study purposes and will amend this policy at that time. In no event will we ever sell, trade, or in any other manner intentionally distribute, disseminate, or disclose any personal identification information about you as an individual user of this app to any companies, organizations, individuals, or any other third party without having first received your permission.

If You Contact Us

If you contact us with questions or bug reports, we may forward limited contact information about you such as your email address to our technical support staff to enable them to respond to your inquiry, without first obtaining your permission, but will do nothing else with the information. Should you contact us with questions or comments, we may use your personal information in order to respond to your questions or comments. We may also keep your comments or questions for future reference in troubleshooting or evaluating suggestions or modifications to the game.

Privacy of Children

TERC does not solicit personal information from minors. We will never knowingly request personally identifiable information from anyone under the age of thirteen (13) without prior verifiable parental consent.
